Project Title: LBNL 2006 Long Range Development Plan

Project Location: University of California, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory (LBNL). The 202-acre LBNL main hill site campus is located in the cities of Berkeley and Oakland east of the UC Berkeley campus. Vehicular access to LBNL occurs primarily along two routes: via Hearst Avenue bordering the north edge of the UC Berkeley campus, which becomes Cyclotron Road at Gayley Avenue; and via Centennial Drive and Grizzly Peak Road. These roadways provide access to three controlled points of entry to LBNL: Blackberry Canyon Gate on Cyclotron Road and Strawberry Canyon and Grizzly Peak Gates on Centennial Drive.

County: Alameda

Project Description: The LBNL 2006 Long-Range Development Plan (2006 LRDP) is a general land use plan to guide the physical development of LBNL through 2025. The 2006 LRDP projects LBNL population to grow from 4,515 in 2006 to 5,375 by 2025. The LRDP projects a net increase in building area on the main LBNL site of 612,000 gross square feet (gsf): from 1,808,000 gsf in 2006 to 2,420,000 gsf. The LRDP's Land Use Plan defines four land use zones that will guide the location of all new buildings and site improvements. These zones have been designed to strengthen existing functional adjacencies and promote an overall density of development that is appropriate to the site.
