Reference: Notification and Offer for Tribal Consultation Pursuant to the CEQA and AB52

Mr. Goff,

Pursuant to City of Del Mar records, your tribe is among those requesting notification in accordance with requirements of California Assembly Bill AB52. The City of Del Mar is in receipt of the project described herein and, pursuant to stipulations of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), begun the process of preparing an initial study and Mitigated Negative Declaration (MND) to analyze its potential for impacts to the environment. To ensure that this process and document adequately incorporate any concerns from your tribe, the City of Del Mar is hereby providing formal notification, and an offer for consultation.

The Project proposes a General Plan Amendment (amending the Del Mar Community Plan), Zoning Code Amendment, and a Local Coastal Program Amendment to implement the City's Certified Housing Element by allowing multiple-dwelling unit residential as an allowed use within the existing North Commercial (NC) and Professional Commercial (PC) Zones. The Project would set the maximum allowed density range to 20 dwelling units per acre. The addition of multiple-dwelling unit residential to the existing mix of allowed uses within these two zones would allow for these properties to develop or redevelop with a mix of commercial and residential uses; or solely as multiple-dwelling unit residential; commercial development; or light-industrial development where allowed per the zoning code. The applicable zoning setbacks, floor area ratio, lot coverage, and height restrictions within the NC and PC Zones would remain the same as they currently are written within the zoning code. The Project does not include any specific development or redevelopment projects as part of the zoning code modification.

In addition to modifying the zoning code to allow for multiple-dwelling unit residential uses within the PC and NC zones, the PEIR would analyze environmental impacts of a potential future zoning modification to a portion of the Public Facilities (PF) zone (seven parcels) to allow for residential development of up to 20 dwelling units per acre. Shores Park is not included in the analysis. No General Plan Amendment or zone changes are currently proposed for the PF zones; however, the environmental analysis would address a potential future change to these zones.

Should your tribe desire consultation in accordance with AB52, please provide a formal request and information for a lead contact person within 30 days of this writing. For any questions about the subject project, please contact me at the information below:
